Name

The name is how it appears on your site.

Slug

The "slug" is the URL-friendly version of the name. It is usually all lowercase and contains only letters, numbers, and hyphens.

Parent Category

Categories, unlike tags, can have a hierarchy. You might have a Jazz category, and under that have children categories for Bebop and Big Band. Totally optional.

Description

The description is not prominent by default; however, some themes may show it.

Deleting a category does not delete the posts in that category. Instead, posts that were only assigned to the deleted category are set to the category Uncategorized.
Categories can be selectively converted to tags using the category to tag converter.

Name

The name is how it appears on your site.

Slug

The "slug" is the URL-friendly version of the name. It is usually all lowercase and contains only letters, numbers, and hyphens.

Parent Category

Categories, unlike tags, can have a hierarchy. You might have a Jazz category, and under that have children categories for Bebop and Big Band. Totally optional.

Description

The description is not prominent by default; however, some themes may show it.

← → ↻ 🏠 🔒 https://codex.wordpress.org/Post_Formats 🔍 Search

Supported Formats

The following Post Formats are available for users to choose from, if the theme enables support for them.

Note that while the actual post content entry won't change, the theme can use this user choice to display the post differently based on the format chosen. For example, a theme could leave off the display of the title for a "Status" post. How things are displayed is entirely up to the theme, but here are some general guidelines.

- aside - Typically styled without a title. Similar to a Facebook note update.
- gallery - A gallery of images. Post will likely contain a gallery shortcode and will have image attachments.
- link - A link to another site. Themes may wish to use the first `` tag in the post content as the external link for that post. An alternative approach could be if the post consists only of a URL, then that will be the URL and the title (`post_title`) will be the name attached to the anchor for it.
- image - A single image. The first `` tag in the post could be considered the image. Alternatively, if the post consists only of a URL, that will be the image URL and the title of the post (`post_title`) will be the title attribute for the image.
- quote - A quotation. Probably will contain a blockquote holding the quote content. Alternatively, the quote may be just the content, with the source/author being the title.
- status - A short status update, similar to a Twitter status update.
- video - A single video or video playlist. The first `<video />` tag or `object/embed` in the post content could be considered the video. Alternatively, if the post consists only of a URL, that will be the video URL. May also contain the video as an attachment to the post, if video support is enabled on the blog (like via a plugin).
- audio - An audio file or playlist. Could be used for Podcasting.
- chat - A chat transcript, like so:

John: foo
Mary: bar

Note: When writing or editing a Post, Standard is used to designate that no Post Format is specified. Also if a format is specified that is invalid then standard (no format) will be used.

Responsive Rows

W3.CSS's grid system is responsive. The columns will re-arrange automatically depending on the screen size: On a big screen it might look better with the content organized in three columns, but on a small screen it might be better if the content were stacked on top of each other.

Update your `wp_nav_menu()` function in `header.php` to use the new walker by adding a "walker" item to the `wp_nav_menu` array.

<?php
wp_nav_menu( array(
    'theme_location' => 'primary',
    'depth'         => 2,
    'container'     => 'div',
    'container_class' => 'collapse navbar-collapse',
    'container_id'  => 'bs-example-navbar-collapse-1',
    'menu_class'    => 'nav navbar-nav',
    'fallback_cb'   => 'WP_Bootstrap_Navwalker::fallback',
    'walker'        => new WP_Bootstrap_Navwalker(),
) );
```

You will need to define your custom callback function in your theme's `functions.php` file. Here is an example:

function mytheme_comment($comment, $args, $depth) {
    if ( 'div' === $args['style'] ) {
        $tag = 'div';
        $add_below = 'comment';
    } else {
        $tag = 'li';
        $add_below = 'div-comment';
    <<?php echo $tag; comment_class( empty( $args['has_children'] ) ? '' : 'parent' ); >>
    id="comment-0"><?php comment_ID() >>><?php
    if ( 'div' != $args['style'] ) { <?php
        <?php comment_ID() >>" class="comment-body"><?php
    } >>
        <?php
            if ( $args['avatar_size'] != 0 ) {
                <?php echo get_avatar( $comment, $args['avatar_size'] );
            <?php printf( __( 'cite class="fn">%s</cite> says:' ),

Welcome to Foundation

We're stoked you want to try Foundation!

To get going, this file (index.html) includes some basic styles you can modify, play around with, or totally destroy to get going.

Once you've exhausted the fun in this document, you should check out:

Foundation Documentation Everything you need to know about using the framework.	Foundation Code Skills These online courses offer you a chance to better understand how Foundation works and how you can master it to create awesome projects.	Foundation Forum Join the Foundation community to ask a question or show off your knowledge.
Foundation on Github Latest code, issue reports, feature requests and more.	@zurfboundation Ping us on Twitter if you have questions. When you build something with this we'd love to see it (and send you a totally boss sticker).

ABOUT
Our 2015 default theme is clean, blog focused, and designed for clarity. Twenty Fifteen's simple, straightforward typography is available in a wide variety of sizes, colors, and suitable for multiple languages.

The Myth of the Pier

Attired after the fashion of the Middle Ages, they bore upon their shoulders a splendid pair of wings, but what especially distinguished them was the long nooses which were fastened to their faces, and the uses which they made of them. These nooses were made of bamboo, and were five, six, and even ten feet long, some straight, others curved, some ribbanded, and some having incantation written upon them.
